MARCHAND THE HERO OF THE BIMETALLIC LEAGUE.

He Is the idol of the French People at This Time. South Third Annual Convention Being Held at Louisville.

MIDNIGHT GREETING NOTED MEN THERE.

Large Crowds Meet His Train at Lyons and His Arrival at Paris Causes Immense Crowds to Gather to Welcome Him.

Paris, June 1.—Civil and military authorities and a big crowd of people went to the railroad station at Lyons, at 1 o'clock this morning to welcome Major Marchand, the African explorer, on his way to Paris from Toulon. A great concourse began assembling around the depot here at an early hour. Members of the League of Patriots arrived in waggons, decorated with garlands and flags.

A tremendous shout "Vive Marchand," announced the arrival of the popular idol on the train at 9 o'clock this morning. A victoria, sent by the Minister of Marine, M. Lockroy, conveyed the major to the ministry of marine, where a lunch was given in his honor. The carriage was literally covered with flowers and had tricolor flags at each corner, while the coachman's whip was tied with tricolor ribbons. Major March-and a representative of the minister of marine, Lieutenant Darriens, entered the vehicle, which on emerging from the railroad station was greeted with storms of cheering. All of those present, with the exception of officers and non-commissioned officers, on the sidewalk, stood with uncovered heads as the explorer passed. Military men saluted in military fashion. Delirious enthusiasm marked every step of Marchand's progress along Boulevard Diderot to Henri Quatre bridge. On either step of the carriage stood a policeman, who kept the explorer's frantic admirers from entering the vehicle.

The Marchand procession, which consisted of several carriages conveying noncommissioned comrades and officers, sent to greet the explorer, proceeded along the quay to Boulevard St. Germain, headed by a detachment of horse guards. There was frantic enthusiasm along the entire route. Crowds, in spite of the efforts of the police, broke into the procession and cut off Marchand's carriage from the others and surrounded it, cheering and waving hats and sticks. The procession arrived at the Palace de la Concorde at a walking pace and stopped in front of the minister of marine where Marchand entered. The crowd noticed there was no flag hanging from the minister of marine building and shouted for one, whereupon the occupants of the house opposite threw a flag to the crowd. The police, however, seized it and prevented the flag from being attached to the ministry building after some hard scuffling.

The minister of marine and Major Marchand, then appeared on the balcony and other member of the expedition followed and formed a group and repeatedly bowed to the spectators who acclaimed them until they were hoarse. Place de la Concorde was black with people and houses on Avenue de la Opera, at the corner of which the military club is situated, and adjacent streets were decorated with flags. An enormous crowd gathered in front of the military club and cheered for the army. The interior of the club was decorated with trophies, flags, flowers, etc. Squads of municipal guards, mounted and on foot, eventually cleared Avenue de la Opera and diverted all traffic from it.

Marchand and companions then lunched at the ministry of marine, a number of generals and admirals being among the guests.

The explorer was received by President Loubet at Elysee palace at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

MARCHAND THE HERO OF THE BIMETALLIC LEAGUE.

He Is the idol of the French People at This Time. South Third Annual Convention Being Held at Louisville.

MIDNIGHT GREETING NOTED MEN THERE.

Several Addresses Made on the Issues of Silver and Bryan the Principal Speaker at a Banquet at the Galt House.

Louisville, June 1.—The Ohio Valley League of Bimetallic clubs, comprising the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky, is holding its third annual convention in this city. The convention was called to order at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Chairman Semonin of the local committee. He introduced Mayor Weaver of Louisville, who extended a hearty welcome to the visiting delegates. At the conclusion of his address Judge J. P. Tarvin of Covington, Ky., president of the Bimetallic league, spoke at considerable length.

Following Judge Tarvin Congressman James M. Robinson of Indiana made an impromptu speech. In reference to the coming campaign of 1900 the speaker said that it lay with the Democratic party to name the victor and that they would make a great mistake if they did not select Mr. Bryan. Then a recess was taken.

The delegates were late in reassembling for the evening session, and it was after 8 o'clock before the convention got down to business.

President Tarvin introduced the Hon. Flavius J. Van Voorhis of Indianapolis, whom he said had given 40 years of his life in defending the principles as enunciated by the Republican party. The Indianan statesman was heartily cheered.

President Tarvin then introduced the Hon. D. S. Oliver of Cincinnati, who presented ex-Governor John P. Altgeld of Illinois. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed when the Illinois statesman arose to address the convention, the delegates rising to their feet, waving hats and cheering lustily until the ex-governor had acknowledged the compliment.

While Governor Altgeld was in the midst of his discourse Mr. Bryan, who had arrived in the city earlier in the evening, reached the theater. He was admitted to the stage by a rear entrance and took a seat behind the flies, where he awaited the conclusion of Mr. Altgeld's speech.

After the speeches of the convention the more distinguished visitors repaired to the Galt house, where the banquet of the Young Men's Democratic club of Louisville to President James P. Tarvin was given. To attend this and respond to the toast, "The Democratic Party," Mr. Bryan had made a special trip to Louisville two days earlier than he had expected.

At the conclusion of the banquet, and with chairs atilt and cigars glowing, the guests settled themselves to listen to the feast of oratory that was planned for the occasion. In response to the first toast, "The Ohio Valley League of Bimetallic Clubs," Judge James P. Tarvin, president of the league, responded.

Following Judge Tarvin the Hon. W. J. Bryan was introduced to the assembled guests. His subject was "The Democratic Party." A tumult of applause greeted him as he arose and amid the fluttering of handkerchiefs and the clapping of hands he was escorted to a chair in the center of the dining hall. He was applauded frequently during his speech.

Drunken Soldier's Crime.

Washington, June 1.—Doc N. Tharpe, a member of company A, Fifth immunes, shot and killed Aaron G. Bishop, a member of company G, of the same regiment. The tragedy occurred at the Pennsylvania station where the men, who had just been mustered out of service, were waiting to take a train for their homes south. Tharpe was drunk at the time and being refused permission to pass through the station gates, drew his revolver and began firing at ex-Sergeant Acton, of the district police, wounding him in the arm. The other bullets went wild, one of them killing Bishop. Tharpe came from Mississippi and Bishop from Gadsden, Ala.

Decorated Confederate Graves.

Alton, Ill., June 1.—Members of the Grand Army of the Republic posts Wednesday decorated the graves of Confederate soldiers in this city. It had been planned to carry out the programme on Decoration day with the flowers gathered in Texas by the Daughters of the Confederacy, but the non-arrival of the magnolias caused a postponement. Addresses were made by ex-Senator Sparks and Colonel William Armstrong.

Quarantine Must Stay.

Austin, June 1.—State Health Officer Blunt says that he will not release in the least the quarantine which he established against New Orleans on account of the yellow fever case in that city. He said an investigation showed that the Electricity for Cruisers.

Washington, June 1.—The board of naval bureau has decided to equip the six new cruisers to be built with full electrical plants, all the secondary machinery, including the winches and boat windlasses. The matter has been under consideration for many months, involving, as it did, the abandonment of present ideas as to the extent to which electricity may be safely and usefully employed aboard ship.

Frightful Fire Figures.

The losses by fire in this country during the first four months of this year amounted in round numbers to $50,000,000, against about $38,000,000 for the corresponding period of 1898. A like rate of destruction continued during the year will bring the figures for 1899 to the enormous total of $150,000,000, or ten times as much as all our battle-ships together cost to build.

These are startling figures to contemplate—the more so when we reflect that destructive fire is a preventable calamity; that care in building and in conduct would have rendered impossible the greater part of the conflagrations that have caused so fearful a loss.—N. Y. World.

J. S. Kendall, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Geo. T. Winston, president of the University of Texas, and W. S. Sutton, Professor of Pedagogy in the University of Texas, have immediate control of the work of the State School of Method, the Summer Normal of High Grade, and the University Summer School, which are to be held in Austin, beginning June 6. The Faculty numbers some twenty-five prominent teachers, among them being President H. C. Pritchett, Dr. H. A. Shands, Dr. George Bruce Halsted, and Mrs. Josephine Heermans, of Kansas City, who will give instruction in Primary Methods.

"Open the mills and the mines, rather than the mints," was William McKinley's slogan in 1896. The mints remained closed to silver, and now the trusts are beginning in terrible earnest to close up all competing mills and mines, and to consolidate all production and distribution in the management of a very small number of men. Next year the republican candidate will be glad to talk forcible annexation or anything else rather than mills and mines. The trust-closed and trust-controlled mills and mines will be a sore subject at the white house.—Vincennes Sun.

The telegrams announce the death of Senor Emilio Castellar, Spain's greatest statesman and the world's greatest orator. In 1878, in a series of brilliant articles on "America and Its Influence," he predicted that the United States would dominate the entire western hemisphere. He warned Spain that she would lose her West India possessions, and predicted that the influence of the United States would bring about great revolutions in Europe. He opposed Spain's entering into the late war with the United States, and warned her statesmen that a war would result disastrously to Spain. He was the leader of the republicans in Spain and his power and influence was feared by the monarchists.—Austin Statesman.

FINISHED THE NATIVES.

Murderers of Captain Tilley Made to Flee to the Mountains.
June 1.—General Lawton has taken command of the defenses of Manila, and his troops are forming a ring around Manila, which will be his headquarters. General MacArthur commands the outlying garrisons and his troops are holding the railroad and river. General Smith reports to General Otis from Negros that he has punished the insurgents who murdered Captain Tilley; that the eastern coast of the island is now under the American flag and the inhabitants ask protection against the robber bands. The bands were pursued into the mountains by United States troops, and native troops were severely punished.

Otis Has Enough Men.
Washington, June 1.—General Otis replied to Secretary Alger's inquiry as to the number of men he considered necessary in the Philippines. The dispatch has not been made public yet, but it is understood General Otis expresses himself as satisfied with present arrangements.

The Dreyfus Case.
Paris, June 1.—The court of cassation resumed the hearing of arguments of application for a revision of the Dreyfus case. The same audience as on previous day's hearing were present, but the rest of the palace of justice was deserted. Maitre Mornard, counsel for Madame Dreyfus, resumed his speech. He reviewed facts in favor of Dreyfus.

To Take Dreyfus Home.
New York, June 1.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from St. Pierre, Martinique, says:
It is stated on the best authority that the steamer Lafayette, which has just arrived, brings officers and men who will take Captain Dreyfus home from his prison on the Isle du Diable, off French Guiana, to a new trial in Paris. The Lafayette will not go to Cayenne, but will proceed on her usual course to Colon. The guards for Dreyfus, ten members of the Republican guards and four gendarmes, will be transferred to the steamer Ville de Tanger for Cayenne.

Transmississippi Congress.
Wichita, Kas., June 1.—At the Transmississippi congress Former Governor Prince of New Mexico introduced a resolution declaring the Carey act relating to cession of public lands for irrigation purposes, should be so amended as to be equal in operation over territories and states. W. P. Ross of New Orleans, presented a paper on the necessity of keeping the mouth of the Mississippi river open. M. J. Sanders of New Orleans, followed on the same subject. Congressmen Flynn of Oklahoma, presented a resolution asking that American built, American owned and American manned ships be given the carrying of foreign commerce.

The officers elected are as follows:
President—E. O. Stanard of St. Louis.
Vice president—Walter Gresham of Galveston, Tex.
Second vice president—L. B. Prince of New Mexico.
Third vice president—E. V. Smalley of Minnesota.
Fourth vice president—J. H. McKnight of Wichita.

An Ex-Soldier Shot.
Leavenworth, Kan., June 1.—William T. Maloney, an ex-soldier, was shot and fatally wounded by Timothy Foran. Foran had been out on a carousal and was coming along the street with a pistol in his hand. Noticing Maloney standing in a doorway he shot him down without a word passing between them or any provocation. Foran resisted arrest, and it took four policemen to handle him. Maloney was shot in the right lung, and the doctors have no hopes for him. He was a quiet man and soldier in the regular army 13 years. His father lives in Cincinnati.

Costly Traffic in Cider.
Bloomington, Ills., June 1.—W. B. Hewitt has a place of business in Chenoa, where he has been in the custom of selling cider produced on his farm. He was prosecuted for selling intoxicating liquor without a license, and has been assessed thirty-eight fines and costs. Each fine ranging from $20 to $100. The costs are $500. He will have to pay between $830 and $4300, unless the judgment is set aside. The case involves several important legal points.

General Henry Heth Seriously Ill.
Washington, June 1.—General Henry Heth, the well known ex-Confederate officer, is seriously ill at his home in this city. He has never recovered from an attack of the grip, and other complications have set in. General Heth, next to General Longstreet, is the oldest surviving Confederate general. He is the officer who started the battle of Gettysburg. The movement he made with his troops led to the selection of Gettysburg for the great battle.

Pacific Steamship Company's Earnings.
New York, June 1.—The annual report of the Pacific Mail Steamship company shows gross earnings $4,140,713, against $4,064,220 last year; operating expenses $3,024,277 against $3,443,077, and net earnings $1,116,335 against $620,543. The balance of the current year is $818,323; $298,011 having been deducted for the loss of the steamship Starbuck. The company is free from all debt except current expenses and had on hand April 30, $1,412,806.

Missing Bank Cashier.
Atlanta, June 1.—Special dispatches to The Journal from Athens, Ga., Charlotte, N. C., and Spartanburg and Greenville, S. C., give no information as to the whereabouts of John A. Benedict, the missing bank cashier of Athens. Several clues have been reported but they developed nothing tangible. Benedict has been missing ten days, the last seen of him alive was at Greenville.

NOT FOR DEWEY ALONE.

The Home Proposed Erected Will Be for the Ranking Admiral.

New York, June 1.—In order that it was fully understood whether it was Admiral Dewey's intention when he accepted a gift of a residence in the city to become his permanent home of ton Trust officer of the navy, to be Morton, now Admiral Dewey as long as he become the head of the navy and pass to his successors, as Mar is on, the department of history of the University of the United States, was an institution in this city, to Admiral Upshur asking for his idea on the matter.

Under date of May 23, the admiral replied as follows:

"Your inference that it is my proposition that a home to be purchased by the free will offerings of Americans for the admiral of the navy should be occupied by Admiral Dewey as long as he remains at the head of the navy and then pass to his successor, is entirely correct, and I agree with you further that in that form it would be more acceptable to Admiral Dewey. I have not moved beyond the initiative in this matter. Others have assumed most kindly the work necessary in connection with the raising of funds, and to them the proposition herein stated that it might be made, although there is a possibility of those subscribing to the Dewey home being unwilling to give except to him in perpetuity."

King of Bunco Men Dead.

San Francisco, June 1.—After getting all there was in life out of it at the expense of the guileless sylvan and equally credulous cosmopolitan, Harry Bailey, alias Thomas Kennedy, is dead at the French hospital. He lived in luxury and died in poverty. During the heyday of prosperity, when the purchasers of his gold bricks were counted by the hundreds, he derived for himself the title of the "King of the Bunco Men," but of late years his market has been limited, and where once he would have refused anything short of glaring gold, he was content with the humble nickel. More than once during his undulating career he stood at prison doors with the machinery of the law striving to place him on the other side of the threshold, but he always managed to regain his liberty on a technicality. He operated extensively in Cincinnati, Detroit and Chicago, and was a native of the metropolis of Ohio.

No Protest Made.

Washington, June 1.—It is officially denied by the state department that there been any exchanges whatever between the department and the German government or its representatives relative to the replacement of the Philadelphia by the cruiser Newark at Apia, Samoa. The subject has not even been mentioned in conversation, it is said nothing in the nature of a protest against sending the ship to Samoa has been lodged. At the navy department it is said no orders have yet been forwarded to the Newark and nothing is known of any German protest. German Ambassador Dr. Von Holleben has authorized a denial of the statement that he made representations of objection to the departure of the cruiser Newark to Samoa.

Attempted Jail Rescue Frustrated.

Leadville, Col., June 1.—An attempted rescue of prisoners in the jail was frustrated by the vigilance of the officers who were forewarned. A man who is supposed to be J. W. Breath of San Bernardino, Cal., was seen in the darkness to scale the high fence about the jail. When captured he fought like a tiger, knocking down Deputy Sheriff Pelter and severely injuring Under Sheriff Lechmere by biting him in the cheek. Lechmere finally succeeded in drawing his revolver, killing Breath, shooting him through the heart.

Decrease in Grain Shipments.

Buffalo, June 1.—Receipts of flour and grain at this port for the month of May show a big decrease compared with last year, owing chiefly to the late opening of navigation and the strike on the docks. Flour receipts for the month were 812,526 barrels as against 1,525,431, and wheat 23,231,935 bushels compared with 28,457,840 bushels. The eastbound shipments by rail show a still larger decrease. In May this year 15,156,000 bushels of grain went by rail against 27,504,250 bushels last year.

Beardless Barley Bundles.

McKinney, Tex., June 1.—Some specimen bundles of beardless barley are displayed in this city, which variety is said to be a new production of this cereal in this section. One of its best qualities to recommend it is its early maturity. Most of what was grown has already been harvested or is now ready for cutting.

Physician Dies of Smallpox.

Lenora, Kas., June 1.—Dr. Fuller, an aged physician, died of smallpox contracted while taking care of patients. There are now about a dozen cases of the disease. All are mild except that of Dr. Drawn, who is the local surgeon of the Missouri Pacific. He also contracted the ailment while attending patients.

Two More Arrests.

Athens, Tex., June 1.—Two more arrests have been made in the Trans Cedar triple lynching affair. The men were brought here by Constable Bagwell and put in jail.

Prof. Tyson Dead.

Brownwood, Tex., June 1.—Prof. Tyson of Rising Star, who was accidentally shot last week while cleaning a gun, is dead.
